Q: How to set up GeoTiff on GCP Cloud Firestore I'm trying to store images on Firestore using GCP buckets. I can do this with Firebase Storage, but I'd also like to run image matching. I can upload images on Firestore using GCS, but the docs say I can only store them as JPEG or GeoTIFF. I can convert the images to JPEG or GeoTIFF, but I need access to the alpha channel and I cannot find any way to do that. Is there a way to add a GeoTiff layer to an existing bucket on GCP? A: It turns out that it is possible to upload GeoTiff files to Firebase Storage and then to GeoTIFF to Firestore. First, you need to create a bucket that is compatible with GeoTIFF: `gsutil defrag -r location -v /google/my-bucket-name gsutil -m rsync -p \ --preserve \ --approx \ --archive \ --compression=lzjpeg \ gs://my-bucket-` name/my-*-20181229.tif \ / Then you will be able to upload the files to Firebase Storage: `gsutil -m rsync -p \`

`--preserve \ --approx \ --archive \`
`--compression=lzjpeg \ gs://my-bucket-`
`name/my--20181229.tif \ gs://my-` `bucket-name/my--20181229.tif.tif`
Finally you can convert these files to GeoTIFF to be used with Firestore:
`gsutil -m rsync -p \ --preserve \`
`--approx \ --archive \`
`--compression=lzjpeg \ gs://my-bucket-`

name/my--20181229.tif.tif \ gs://my-bucket-name/my--20181229.tif.tif.tif
gsutil -m rsync -p \ --preserve \
--approx \ --archive \
--compression=lzjpeg \ gs://my-bucket-
name/my-*-20181229.tif.tif.tif \
gs://my-bucket-name
