Top 8 Movies With The Most WOW! S.Q: Difference of two Bounded and one Infinite series I have a question with i dont know how to solve it. Prove that the following function doesnt converge or diverge: $\sum_{n=1}^{\infty} (\frac{1}{n+1} - \frac{1}{n})$ I dont know if it even is a

Bounded or an Infinite series... A: Note that for $n \geq 1$, we have $\frac{1}{n+1} - \frac{1}{n} \leq 0$. As for the other series, you can argue that

$\frac{1}{n+1} - \frac{1}{n}$ is a decreasing sequence, hence bounded, but also an decreasing sequence converging to 0 , hence the series is also convergent. 1. Technical Field The present invention relates to an electronic apparatus equipped with a connector. 2. Related Art In an electronic apparatus equipped with a connector such as a connector of a wiring harness, if the connector is inclined to cause a direction in which the connector is inserted into a housing of the electronic apparatus and a direction in which the connector is connected to the housing differ from each other, there is a concern that the connector fails to be inserted into and/or disconnected from the housing correctly. For this reason, generally, in order to prevent the connector from being inclined, the connector of the wiring harness is designed to be assembled to the housing in such a manner that the connector is assembled at a predetermined position (or at a predetermined angle) to the housing. For example, JP-A-2011-171005 discloses a connector that has a housing to which a plurality of terminal fittings are assembled, and a latch member connected to the housing, and that prevents the terminal fittings from being inclined with respect to the housing by a latching mechanism. If the housing and the latch member are connected to each other via an elastic member, there is a concern
