I feel I am in a paradise here. I live in a small place and I actually don't know anyone. I travel, but I go to places full of people. I come home, and there are no hills, no mountains, no forests or lakes. I don't see any animals. The reason I don't see any animals is because the men from the army set up firework display nights, and with the noise of the fireworks, the animals were frightened and didn't want to come near me. And I don't see anyone wearing red clothes, I've only seen one while he played football in the street. I have 5 cameras. One of them is mine and the other 4 are the ones the "government" took from people. I don't have electricity. I only have water. I have gone in the fridge because my fridge was broken. I've seen a TV that works, but it's broken. The front porch door is not fixed. I went to the backyard and in the garden, they chopped up the plant. The telephone is not working. There was a phone, but they took it from us. I don't sleep. I think about what happened to my brother and sister, I remember the phone, I think about my mother, I think about my grandmother. I think about my father. I think about how everything happened, and I think about the world. I am not at peace. I dream of clouds, of water and of colours. I think about the life that I lived. I think about the life that I live now. For a long time, I haven't looked into the world. And people might ask me, "Why don't you leave? There is no way for you to live? Why don't you look outside of yourself? That's how life is. There is no opportunity for you to be happy. It's not your time to be happy. It's not your time to look at yourself in the mirror. It's not your time to be optimistic." But I don't understand. I don't understand why I was born. I don't understand why I have to do this. I don't understand why I have to be here. I don't understand why I have to live here. I don't understand why it is that people have all the fun. I don't understand why it is that you can be alone in a room with a b7e8fdf5c8

Chroma Photo pro is a graphic editor whose purpose is to help you change the green or blue background of your images with custom background pictures. Clean layout The tool lets you preview the photo that you want to edit directly in the main window. Plus, you can check out the adjustments applied in real time. You are given the freedom to create a list with the foreground pictures that you want to alter and another one with background images. Chroma Photo pro works with different file formats, such as JPEG, TIFF, BMP, PNG, and XPM. The imported images can be previewed with the aid of thumbnails. The program gives you the possibility to upload multiple photos and try on different combinations until you attain the perfect blending between the foreground and background items. Background settings and canvas size You can specify the color of the background (green or blue), drag and drop the foreground image anywhere relative to the background, modify the size of the canvas according to the background or foreground, as well as scale the background in concordance with the foreground. What's more, you can make the background transparent. We have tested Chroma Photo pro on Windows 8.1 Pro and noticed that it does not carry out the editing process quickly. The final results are very good. It eats up from a minimal up to a moderate amount of system resources. On the downside, there's no support for a help manual so less experienced users need to experiment with the configuration settings in order to get an idea about how the app works. Bottom line All things considered, Chroma Photo pro comes packed with several useful features for helping you edit your photos and add various types of backgrounds. Related Download 1. Clear dta 2.
