St link v2 usb Download the jury. The appellant's brief does not specify the evidence of the witness that the prosecution was able to establish before the jury. In its application to this court for a rehearing, the appellant merely repeats its contention that the state court was in error in applying the Cudjo principle and that the trial court's ruling on appellant's "Motion to Suppress Evidence" precluded the admission of the grand jury testimony at trial. On its face this contention is without merit. The grand jury testimony was introduced at trial by the prosecution as an exception to the hearsay rule. See Palermo v. United States, 360 U.S. 343, 354, 79 S.Ct. 1217, 3 L.Ed.2d 1287 (1959). The appellant has had ample opportunity to show what allegedly objectionable testimony, which it failed to offer, was introduced. 15 The appellant has failed to show the grounds for a reopening of its case. 16 Appellant contends that the Cudjo rule constitutes an unconstitutional infringement upon the right of the accused to testify on his own behalf. The Supreme Court has recently addressed itself to this problem. In Harris v. New York, 401 U.S. 222, 91 S.Ct. 643, 28 L.Ed.2d 1 (1971), decided June 25, 1971, the Court refused to overrule its earlier decision in Brookhart v. Janis, 384 U.S. 1, 86 S.Ct. 1245, 16 L.Ed.2d 314 (1966). In that case the Court held that the Fifth Amendment does not, in all cases, require the exclusion of a statement compelled under the due
