What's new in Elden Ring:

Question: Why is Dungeon Fighter Online cast in a cross-platform development model?

Conceptually, the game was designed to be played on both Windows PCs and mobile devices. As a result, the model was chosen because it would give us an easy learning curve while ensuring a target that provides excitement for all ages. I believe this made it more accessible for Windows PC users.

However, we are planning to localize the game in other languages, including Chinese, Japanese, and Korean, to make it more widely accessible. In the near future, we would like to offer the game on iOS and Android.

Question: What hardware specifications are needed to play the game?

We have adapted a wide array of PCs to give players ideal hardware specs. PC specs depend on the version that you choose: for the monthly subscription version, and for the premium version, you can choose your preferred specs. You should be able to play the game without hitting any hardware limits. The following are included in the monthly subscription version:

OS: Windows 7 SP1 or later Processor: Intel® Core™ 2 Duo 2.66 GHz or AMD Athlon™ X2 Dual Core Processor 4000+ RAM: 4 GB or more Video: HD Graphics 2GB or more Hard disk: HDD 350GB or more (Operating capacity: 25 GB or more) Sound card: DirectX® 9 compatible Monitor: 1280*720 pixels or higher resolution

For the premium version, hardware specs such as the following are required:

OS: Windows 10 Processor: Intel® Core™ i3-4130, Intel® i3-4330, or AMD Phenom™ II x6 1075 RAM: 8 GB or more Video: HD Graphics 2GB or more Hard disk: HDD 350GB or more (operating capacity: 25 GB or more)

PC specs are not sufficient for high-end mobile devices. Specifically, the art assets are compressed and optimized for display on PC. If your device has plenty of storage, and if it is a mobile device, I strongly recommend that you play the game on a PC. However, I am extremely excited for mobile devices, because this game really makes use of the wide-screen
