The game consists of a set of free mini-games, the main adventure is being in a new farm with a lot of adventures to be performed by finding hidden objects. You are going to play different mini-games, you will see the farm at different angles and enjoy dozens of different puzzles to find in each of the 9 mini-games. All mini-games are fun, but somehow challenging. That's when my best friend's birthday party will take place. Our friend Bob is a fox, and not only that, he is also obsessed with foxes. Because of that obsession, he is a bit crazy. This is his birthday party. Hopefully Bob will not be upset. After all, this is a birthday party, not a family funeral. I am not going to make Bob sit in the corner. That's not my job. You know what I mean - let me know that Bob is feeling good at the party. I will - somehow - send you all an email with details about the party. Of course, you're not asking how I'm going to handle it. After all, we are a team, aren't we? I'll tell you about it later! Cast of characters: Ivo - the host of the party. You know, a man with a beard. You might not remember it, but in the past, he and Bob went to some archaeology course. So Ivo is a bit of a genius. Bob - the birthday boy. He wants to ask a girl to marry him and be in love with her forever, but just can't admit that it's the right girl and that he's in love with her. Of course, he has a best friend, a fox. His friend is a fox. Girl and her friends. She is very shy and a bit unsure about the whole thing. Maybe she will ask Bob to dance later. And will she get angry if he dances with the wrong girl? You have to find out! The 3 love birds. They will prove that Bob and the girl are meant to be. Of course, the boys have a superlove-on-air mechanic - a robot, is called, Dave. He has super powers. He can fly. And he will help the birds even though he's a robot. This cute robot is Dave, and he's in love with Tracey - his girlfriend. And of course the guest of honor. I'll let him

- Unlock Different Parts in Staggered Time - Good battle AI - Great Controls - Lots of Characters (More added with Updates) This is a highly requested game and is being funded because of how well it is doing. It has been on the Top Sellers for over 7 months now and is currently the 2nd most popular game on the group. I just want to give some quick updates: - New unlockable Characters (3 of which are in development) - New rooms & Bosses (2 of which are in development) - Several Updates (UI, Character Labels, Enemies, etc) - Weekly Updates with New Features and Gameplay - Local Multiplayer Campaign - Controller support - High Resolution Graphics This is the only game on the list so far that is being fully developed by an independent dev (Isogami Labs) and the only one that isn't on kickstarter. The Staggered Timeline concept is an original concept that I've been working on with cooperation and without knowledge of the decisions taken by the developers of other games on kickstarter. My motive of putting in the time into developing this game is not to collect fanboy points, but instead to put a fun game out there into the wild with a fun story, so hopefully, it makes people think of the hard work that goes into every project. I just wanted to share that with you guys. The following is a link to what is going on in the game at the moment: That's my first request for you. If you are reading this and have any ideas of how to make this game better, please leave a comment or email me. This would be the only way I can hear feedback on what you would like to see. What's new in Escape From The Lockdown: The Demon Fortress (Steam Version) - Day 3 - Ending:

Fresh from the members of the OFPN forums, here is a base set of four new maps for Pathfinder Playtest. Use it for beginners and advanced players. Check out the Modify Files menu if you wish to edit your maps. I tried to keep the playing space on the maps pretty small, some are under 60 tiles (exact file sizes don't matter that much, but smaller maps will make it easier to use here), and only the continents and oceans are colored. I've cut a bunch of the junky textures and animals out of the new maps. I think it gives a cleaner look. That's a big chunk. It's "crummy" high res, but hopefully it's playable. The animals and junky parts were not part of the new maps. Some maps include some water or in case of the new map MC DLC that contains old west settlements, so you might encounter moats, left overs from weapons, corpses, marauders, bandits and other "stuff". DON'T RUSH TO KILL OR KILL EM! It's just to make you feel like the game. Consistent with other Playtest maps is a Centralized Map Size of 20 tiles. It prevents the sizes to be waaay too small and waaay too big with different minimum tile size at the beginning. While the maps are small, they're playable. Some players on the old forums have converted it to Roll20 (a Free table top RPG software), so it should work fine there too. Rainbow Lands Is it just me, or doesn't Rainbow Lands look quite unlike any other of the available lands? I find it quite curious especially given the Confusion Mountains. Dungeons & Dragons (3.5e) had a lot of the Kalamar Jungle setting, including various ruined expanse of ruined jungle, including some oases in the east. Rainbow Lands seem quite sparse, even with the "dense" Forest of Holding. Anyone else have any thoughts on this setting? How does it look? Note: Some of your maps have already been converted into Roll20.com. They should work just fine in the online "server", but I'd recommend against using this site if you prefer using the desktop version Note: Please post in the order they're presented here or you risk shipping your maps out to a player
