Release dates Features A unique fantasy world in the full scope of time and space: the war between two great cultures continued for years and extended beyond the borders of the Empire. At one point of time, the Vikings and the Byzantines were already equal competitors. However, Vikings took over the Empire and remained in power for a long time. Now, the civilized world has gotten accustomed to the new order, but it's not completely peaceful. There's a secret faction, which took advantage of the situation to seize power and wants to settle the land. Their main goal is to control the artifact and enslave the world with it. Only six fearless and gifted heroes can save their world. They must be courageous and learn the craft of their enemies. They must have perseverance and be ready to endure many hardships. The characters are really unique and beautiful. There's a wide range of character skills, many secrets and several mini-games. The world of Konung is a unique fantasy land. The inhabitants live under the rule of four princes who are the direct descendants of the Titans. They act as the land's gods and keep their order. The world is separated into four regions: the Wild Forest, the Forests, the Prairie and the Underworld. Each region has an ally faction that can be assembled and sent to help the heroes. The allies are divided into three types: General, shaman and priest. These allies can be used either to add a lot of skills to your heroes or to gather resources. Each of the heroes can use the abilities of the alliance to complete different quests. The alliances are associated with different virtues, so that the alliance with the 'General' ally can complete quests related to strategy and skills, while the alliance with the 'Priest' ally can complete quests related to controlling your heroes and gathering resources. The alliances are also associated with different attributes of the hero. In addition, in some quests, the ally can help your heroes to fight against monsters. The hero's attribute system is completely new. The heroes must be very patient and learn different techniques. They can get powerful magic artefacts in quests. The artefacts change the hero's personality and improve the hero's attributes. All magic artefacts are powerful, but you must be very careful not to use them. If you don't have the needed artefact, you can still survive as you can find many powerful artefacts hidden in the game world. The heroes can use their skills in many different ways

What's new:

Province Hard is a province of the Northern Territory. It is bordered by the Daly Region to the west, Barkly Region to the north, Adam Giles Region to the east and the Northern Territory-Queensland border in the south. It is located on the coast of Arnhem Land and is characterised by a mountainous coastline, smaller than the other coastal areas of the NT. During the mid-20th century, the majority of the population in NT was located in the capital of Darwin, with little population density in the other parts of the north of the Territory. The last private land sale between 2004 and 2009 was at Carpentaria Crossing. Climate The Hard has a tropical savanna climate. Rainfall is heavy almost all year with a few months of dry season. November has the strongest monsoonal downpour in Arnhem Land and the rest of NT. The heaviest rain falls between December and January. The maximum monthly rainfall occurs in the summer months, between November and March. The average annual rainfall is. Droughts are common in the Wet, and are amplified during the hotter and drier periods of Arnhem Land. The heavy summer rains greatly increase the flood risk. The province is also affected by a cyclone, although it is rarely severe and usually occurs in the late afternoon on days when the maximum winds are known to be passing over Darwin. Terrain The province is characterised by a mountainous coastal region, which comprises the coastal peaks of the Vastenbos Range, which extends from the eastern tip of Cape Range to the Daly River Hills and Rat Park. This coastal range contains many peaks exceeding over 1000m, including Mount Connor, Mount Dungowan, Mount Maxwell, Mount Charles, Mount Burdekin, Mt Farcem Australia and Mount Billy at 1634m. The white peaks of the coast have been eroded into a series of gorges, ravines and steep cliffs. The land further inland is characterised by a coastal plain along the length of Arnhem Land. Subdivisions Hard is subdivided into three local government areas The largest local government area is the East Arnhem Region, which includes all of the hard south, from Gunlgun in the north to Cresswell Point in the south, and parts of the Daly region in between. The second largest, and smallest, local government area is the Bickerton and Marrar Region, which includes
