He that has felt these as a joke will change everything in life, by finding the otherworld along the way. The true blacksmiths are those who found the light after the world turned dark." [Story[André] ☹ Pardon my French, but I can't help it... As the battle with the "Shadow Beast" (Elixir, a giant monster that is beyond your imagination) continued, I tried to run for help, but you caught me and dealt damage points to me. You then explained you were an Elden Lord that only had a few days left before you died. You couldn't run away, as it would collapse the dungeon entrance, so you asked that we take you to our village. However, before we could move, the dungeon collapsed and scattered everywhere. We fought with hands full to contain the damage. You lost 10 points of strength and died. My heart broke, and I started weeping for you. ☹ Elden Ring's story is the same with mine... As you put forth your pet monster, I thought about how similar our stories were. ☹ I wanted to repay you in some way, so I ran away... It was after we got drunk, that I told you our stories. We were passing the night in a tavern, until I drank too much, and passed out. I woke in the morning, and you were gone. I tried to look for you, but the tavern owner told me that you had gone with a stranger to another tavern. Tears started flowing from my eyes. ☹ I returned, but I still didn't see you... The next morning, I returned to the tavern, and searched for you. But I couldn't find you, so I resigned myself to returning home. Though my life was saved, you were dead. When I returned to the village, they told me that it was a "sudden death". ☹ The reason it was a "sudden death" was I was drunk... I returned home, and returned to the village where I was born, but I didn't see you. After a week passed, I realized I had to return home. After I returned home, my mother told me that you had passed away. I returned to the village where I had lived as a child, where my mother was. I returned to the village where I grew up, and you were gone bff6bb2d33

For this I have the query below: SELECT * FROM subs INNER JOIN (SELECT DISTINCT email FROM subs WHERE id IN (1,2,3)) AS results ON subs.email = results.email This works fine, but it only gets the results from Subscriptions.id 1,2,3. How can I add the results from ID 4 (Tim) to the list as well? I have tried several variations of the INNER JOIN statement, but cannot seem to get it to work. I have a SQL Fiddle set up here.
