This dynamic music adventure will truly make you feel like you're in a majestic musical journey. The game is inspired by the hit song "Carry Me" by world-renowned electronic artist Kygo. 'Carry Me' VR allows players to experience Kygo's original music and vibe to a whole new level, as they follow Kygo through a beautiful and surreal experience of a wholly original musical universe. Key Features: · Create your own melody and experience the game through your own audio track · Dramatically animated environments for an unparalleled immersion · Animated custom Kygo design · Authentic Kygo sound effects and music · Experience 'Carry Me' in VR About TeamVR: Taytub VR is a new cultural hub of creativity, constantly evolving VR experience on the web. We have been founded by industry veterans and dedicated enthusiasts, with over 40 years of experience in the field of interactive marketing, media & entertainment. We are here to set the standard in 360° video, content and immersive entertainment. Taytub VR's first project is the Taytub VR website, where we present our audience with an unparalleled artistic and cultural depth to be explored by every visitor. Whether by digital art, literature or design, traditional or innovative games or music, we'll be always intrigued to deliver something new to our audience in the context of our brand new immersive virtual world. The music video for Kristen Bell and Seth Green's viral sensation "On My Own" is back, and it's now available to stream in a new 360-degree VR experience from the creative minds that brought "On My Block" to life. In "On My Own," Green and Bell star as a recording duo whose joyous sound travels around the world, making everyone feel closer to each other. This romantic comedy follows the duo through a series of huge events: a global concert in Times Square, a tearful breakup, a hilarious marriage proposal and more. The response was so huge that "On My Own" went on to become the top-streamed song in YouTube history. "The idea for this song is so emotionally cathartic that it felt weird not to pull it into a video," said director Eric Wareheim (creator of "The Chudnofsky Chronicles" and "Freddy Got Fingered"). "So we wanted to make a VR experience that

Hi! I've just installed the client, and I was wondering if there's any way to change the default language?

Yes, definitely! The easiest way is using the settings command:

~/bin/xxz > settings.txt
Save your settings to a local file:
Open this file with a text editor, and provide your language.
-Tommy

Terra is incredibly popular! But, is it in your language?

Actually, it is: the player-base is comprised almost entirely of Germans, Dutch and English speaking individuals. In order to see if a Terra item is available in your language, you may try the following instruction:

Download this paper and print it

It looks like the game was exported from Germany, and that the most convenient way to change the language is to use the localization settings.

Can I configure special menus?

Sometimes we might force you to use the English language, even in Germany. There's no need to complain. You can unlock all available languages using this command:

Download this paper and print it

Alien Egg: Ascent is a first-person, two-dimensional (2D) puzzle platformer with gameplay elements of sliding and bouncing. But instead of being a normal 2D game, it was designed as a 2D puzzle game like a large collection of small puzzle games rolled into one! As you play the game, you will think of the gameplay as a single large-scale puzzle that has been arranged into sections. You will be propelled by your instincts to find your way through the game. Key features include: - 2D puzzles – Ascent is a first-person puzzle game, but you can see the entire screen rather than look through your character's eyes. For this reason, some puzzles were designed in a 2D style rather than in a 3D style. As you solve the puzzles, you will see the entire game space. - 3D – while there are 2D puzzles, the core of Ascent is 3D. At times, you can see 3D, as when you move away from the surface and into space. In some areas, you have total freedom of movement, but in other areas, the environment constricts your movement. The game places you as an alien in a world, so it is difficult to think that you and the game are the same. - Physics-based gameplay – Ascent uses a physics-based system to allow you to jump, roll, and slide. The key to successfully completing levels is to effectively control the physics-based system and use the physics to your advantage. It will help you to jump, slide, and roll into obscure objects and areas that might otherwise be difficult to reach. With the combined help of your instincts and physics, it should be a smooth ride! - A physics-based universe – Ascent is a 2D puzzle game, but it was designed as a collection of games rather than as a single game. As you complete the puzzles, the game will have the player jump, roll, and slide through the levels to find his or her way out. The physics-based universe is completely different from anything you have ever experienced before. The game has a new and unique level design that is one of the highlights of Ascent. - Surreal alien environments – Alien Egg: Ascent is a game about the unknown, so the game has fully-realized surreal alien environments and characters. You will travel through a variety of surreal environments, such as underground laboratories, space interplanetary biospheres, and alien c9d1549cdd

Predator "Survivor" Strategy: Diablo III Gameplay: Mortal Kombat Systemoverall Strategy: Hi everyone, This is just a quick video to show how I designed these 10*10*10*10 block structures. The idea is to be able to fit the entire army into the block for easy transportation. Basically a cross between a building and a display case. There is an excel file that comes with a blueprint of how to build these. I hope you enjoy this video and if you do it would be awesome if you could subscribe to my channel. The Block Game design challenge. We designed a set of logic bricks to cover the base game, but the challenge is, can you make any more? Let us know if you can! You can find all the information you need on our site! www.steamgames.biz Thanks for your support! Block Game design challenge.  Hard-Boiled Egg The Double Dipper THE ENTIRE USE OF this blog and the lemons weve been living off of, went to cooking the h! e-ayyyy!! what do we do?? How do we get rid of them?? Maybe thats when our firstborn looks around at this and calls in the be-as-you-want-to-be because we have tried to give this child the best experience with the lemons, but thats just going to be a thing she resents when she gets older because we couldnt just simmply make lemonade from them! But nope, no lemonade will be made, because its mixed with honey and frozen and served to the birds and to our kids to drink, just a simple cold double dipper of lemonade! The lemons, they are so precious. And they are so high maintenance. We dont just use them to use, make our mothers day lunch and call it a day, huh? No way! The lemons are used and used, way more than we care to admit, but its ok cause its what they were meant for, to be used up and then to go and become lemons bread, sourdough bread, and bacon, bacon, baconee, with lemon peels! Yup! Lemons ate it, we gave it to them! We cured them, ground them, made them into lemons bread, and finally, we forced them to make jelly out of their insides! I'm going to share a recipe I found recently on pinterest, the one that makes most sense to us is the gingerbread all ye can eat kind. She made the molasses cake with milk because she and her kids are all lactose intolerant and we noticed when making up her recipe for the show house that one of the ingredients was milk and that was something we knew we couldnt use from our own experience. We werent going to really use milk over our body stockage!!! Almost like those cravings you get, thats what we got for cookies! And where do you find yourself when you get one of those cravings? On your knees, maybe, our bed, who knows?! Except that we did find it to be that we needed to give up milk, but instead of giving up the limited situation we were living in, well see, we made up this double dipper lemonade with honey, and all was well in the world!!!!
