

---

us look at the past 6 months for you and how you could go forward with some useful words...(Adds quotes) BANGKOK, July 29 (Reuters) - Malay fishermen in the Andaman and Nicobar Islands in India are the real heroes and deserve better help, the island's home minister said on Tuesday after a navy boat that was escorting a vessel struck a reef. Home Minister Shri Shailesh Prasad said the government would not let people paint a wrong picture of the armed forces. On Tuesday, the navy boat picked up 80 fishermen from the Andaman and Nicobar Islands. "Those poor fishermen, they are real heroes. The navy is trying very hard to help them," Prasad told reporters. "The government will not allow people to keep on painting a wrong picture of the armed forces," he said. In the early hours of Sunday, two fishermen from the Nicobar Islands had been killed when the navy boat struck a coral reef as it was escorting the vessel carrying pilgrims to Sankranti, the Hindu festival for Lord Vishnu. The navy said the vessel was on its way to pick up the fishermen from the Andaman and Nicobar Islands after stormy weather grounded it in the Andaman Islands. Prasad said the fishermen had expected the navy would