Moxifloxacin is a new fluoroquinolone with a low adverse effect profile. We aimed to determine the disposition and dose requirements of moxifloxacin for the treatment of bacterial infections in liver transplant recipients. Three patients received moxifloxacin 400 mg at bedtime for cystitis (patient 1), pneumonia (patient 2) or peritonitis (patient 3). The peak serum moxifloxacin concentrations ranged from 56.8 to 78.2 mg/L. Serum clearance was >88.7 L/h/m² in all patients. The elimination half-life was 4.37 to 11.4 h. Moxifloxacin is an effective antimicrobial in the liver transplant population. Higher doses may be required to maintain adequate serum concentrations in patients with renal impairment. But what I am trying to do is to get the following result, where there are two rows instead of one (one row for users with two likes and other for users with one like) user actor_id event_id 2 1 33 1 1 33 Thank you in advance. A: Yes, you want a cross join: -> SELECT user, actor_id, event_id -> FROM mt_likes; Since you have no qualifying restriction on the event_id, you get each of the possible rows. Insulin inhibits in a dose-dependent manner vasoactive intestinal polypeptide-induced secretion of acetylcholine from the rabbit atrium. Administration of insulin into the atrial lumen of the anesthetized rabbit reversibly inhibits vasoactive intestinal polypeptide (VIP)-induced secretion of acetylcholine (ACh) from the atrium. Atrial infusions of 10 microU VIP/ml for 60 min evoked a significant (63-70% of the basal value), transient (10-20 min) increase in atrial ACh secretion. Continuous infusion of 50 microU VIP/ml for 5 min to rabbits pretreated with 90-min infusions of 100 microU insulin/ml-2 min had no effect on atrial ACh secretion. The renal clearance of Technetium-99m diethylene triamine pentaacetic acid (Tc-99m DTPA) was measured in 15 patients with end stage renal disease (ESRD) by the single injection technique. The whole 99mTc-DTPA activity was injected without angiographic identification of the renal blood flow. This method was adopted in order to avoid the loss of blood on the procedure and avoid detection of the contrast medium in the renal cortical area during the actual study. The patients were randomly divided into two groups; the first group (n = 6) was submitted to dialytic procedure and the second group (n = 9) was not treated. The mean glomerular filtration rate (GFR) of patients with ESRD was 4.9 +/- 3.8 mL/min, while that of the healthy subjects was 136.5 +/- 24.1 mL/min (P less than 0.001). GFR in patients with ESRD was correlated with creatinine clearance (r = 0.90, P less than 0.01). The renal clearance of Tc-99m DTPA was reduced in those patients with ESRD. In the patients treated with dialytic procedure, Tc-99m DTPA clearance was 0
