Since our debut last year with Swords and Laser Epics we've been developing our new game Overkiller with the help of our fanbase and the support of our community! We are proud to present to you our first trailer, and it's been quite a long time since I've done one. Premiered at The Bloody Geek Fest, it is now available to the public! Here is a walkthrough video of the game...the first video with gameplay, actually! Overview of the game: Overkiller is a horror inspired game following a rather simple premise. You play as a survivor of some sort, stranded in a post-apocalyptic world with no memory, very little food, and no weapons. In this wasteland, you must be careful of the many predatory creatures that populate it. Much like in the game Dead Island, the goal is survival and not to fight back. Gameplay: The gameplay of Overkiller is simply a survival-oriented, hardcore FPS-lite experience. There are four different classes to pick from, each with their own perks to choose from. Basic attacks include jumping on creatures to stun them or being picked up and slammed on your opponent's face. As c9d1549cdd

- The producers realized that with the fantastic performance, the soundtracks were becoming at times very hard for the discerning audience, and it would help to take a bit of a break... So the decision to release a second volume was made. The music is largely composed by very talented composers and the tunes in this program just compete with the tunes heard in DW MAKKO! The first volume of this amazing series is entitled "Nya Nya Nya GALS II"(loosely translated in the US as "New Year's Pageants 2") The second volume will be entitled "Nya Nya Nya GALS III" (unfortunately I don't know where to get the translation file, so I can't give you the exact titles) I can only hope that we will get this four disk set soon even for the discerning fans, but I doubt it... The only real problem is that now the producers are too busy to offer the fans a four disk set, so I doubt they will ever do it again. I took a look at Bandcamp and found a digital version of the Ballads, which are on Disk 1, Ipod version on Disk 3. I don't know if they will release a physical copy on vinyl or not yet? I forgot where I read about it, but the Bandcamp copy is the manufacturer's pressing. Any source on the master title leaving the Booth? They're waiting for a space nibble from a label to have the time to get the manufacturing finished and release copies, but that's like "just waiting in the closet" in a sense - until there's money to make it happen. You can have parts of it now: I'm using the DXV4231's DACs in the PRESENTATION of a new IVRL service: Who accepts files sent TO him (5 to 10MB max) can download them and upload them to the IVRL service. He has the desktop application and the Network Server too, but he still needs to improve the Network Server so he can display the IXR LENGTH FILES the thing can record: 20min to over 100 hours per file. I'm planning to have on this site a Desktop version of the service and of a new SDL program that will replace the old DAVWn application that offers another type of IVRL service (it "plays" instead of "records" so it requires less storage and could

Jank is a small Indie game by a one man team located in Montreal. This game has been in development for 2 years and is now in beta. *My updates might not be frequent but i'll try my best to keep you guys updated! How do I know it's been that long? I'm homeless as I write this. My apartment has been empty for over six months now. I have no one to comfort me in my time of need. A long and cold winter is just about to be outlived by a new and, in retrospect, undeniably more significant fall. In the interim, I'll go through this blog post, one eye on the shiny new iOS platform that I helped bring you and one eye on the mound of cocaine that was burnt up beyond recognition last week. As I'm not exactly accepting new beta testers, it'll be a no-login beta. So if you wanna go head-first into this apocalyptic nightmare, you're going to have to be a little more stealthy than you normally would. As you might have noticed from the title, I'm no longer the lead developer. Having been working on my own game for almost a year, I'm looking for a small team to continue working on it in tandem with a select few dedicated and experienced veterans that will be able to bring their A-game. I'm open to any role: artist, programmer, writer, musician, weapon designer, animator, etc. I'm looking for five people that are flexible, detailed-oriented, fast-and-loose, and understand the concept of "We work hard so you don't have to". I have a substantial list of ideas in mind to be fleshed out and some sketches that I'm hoping to convert into high-resolution art assets. I'm interested in seeing what kind of stuff you're working on and what kind of brand/identity you're producing with. I haven't changed my name as I have left indie game development to do something else for a while now. So if you're interested in being my partner in crime, please get in touch! You know what I can't believe I'm saying this...but I'm excited that I don't have to pay the 12
