Cadillacs And Benny Jenkins Benjamin Vernon 'Benny' Jenkins (13 February 1900 – 2 December 1984) was an English music hall singer and comedian who had a recording career in the late 1920s. Music hall Jenkins started singing in London music halls around 1925, and had his first hit in 1928 with the song "I've a Hog on the Run" (a comedy song with music by Edward Ray). He left the music hall for Hollywood in 1929 and in 1930 made several recordings for Columbia. One of these, "My Love She's a Widow", was later re-recorded by Bing Crosby. Jenkins' style as a singer was played down in America as most music hall singers were played down, and in late 1930 he returned to London. On his second return to the music hall, in 1933, he starred in Ken Courtley's hit play The Gentleman from the South Seas which he later toured in in several countries. After the success of that show he was given a regular role in the Royalty Theatre, London, and spent two years at the Prince's Theatre and the Garrick 6d1f23a050
